Professor Michael Mainelli is a polymath. Multilingual, multi-educated (London School of Economics, Trinity College Dublin and Harvard) with a career which has taken him from Petroconsultants Group, BDO/Arthur Andersen to the Ministry of Defence/Qinetiq and thence to Gresham College. His day-job now is Executive Chairman of Z/Yen Group Ltd, “the City of London's leading think-tank”.

He sails boats (his own as well as other peoples') and he believes in saving the whales.

GEIF has invited Michael to come and give his views on the state of the UK's (and perhaps the world's) economy. His forthright views will not be shared by all but his approach is challenging and entertaining. We hope you are able to join us on Tuesday 21 October.
